U.S. ARMY WOMEN'S MUSEUM

---

Thank you for your interest in the U.S. Army Women's Museum (USAWM) and Women's History Month. Listed below are several resources that will ensure you have a thoughtful and factual observance.

This year's theme is Celebrating Women of Character, Courage, and Commitment. On the USAWM website you can find biographies of women the museum staff has deemed representative of these three characteristics. The biographies were created using information directly from the museum's archives. In addition, the Defense Equal Opportunity Management Institute's website contains a number of resources for this observance including presentations, fact sheets, and posters. Also visit the National Women's History Project's website for more information about the theme and their resources.

Also check out the museum's virtual tour which is loaded with extra archives and collections information in addition to a complete 360° tour of the museum galleries.

SOCIAL MEDIA:

Check out the USAWM on Facebook. There you can find up to the minute details about the museum.

The Facebook timeline provides an overview of significant people and events concerning the contributions of women to the Army since the Revolutionary War. Click on the links under "Life Events" to learn more.

Also check out the photo albums the museum has posted. A Women's History Month 2014 album has been created containing biographies of women the museum staff has deemed representative of the three characteristics specified in this year's theme. In addition, each month our archivist posts an "Archive of the Month" which highlights interesting collections found in the USAWM collections. There are also photos of recent happenings at the museum.

The Facebook page is also a great way to get in touch with the USAWM. Feel free to message us with questions or comments and be sure to "Like" our page!
